

Date: October 17, 2008
Contact: Jean Quartarone
Title: Marketing
732-747-6995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE-

Data Storage Expansion of Critical Data

Tinton Falls, NJ--- January 22, 2009: Storage Engine announces an order in excess of One Million dollars (US) for a sale to New York City Agency to expand their existing data storage environment. The solution provides a tiered storage archive that will combine disk and tape to provide hundreds of Terabytes of effective capacity under a digital asset management solution. This data expansion is for critical data that has contentious data access needs for this vital New York City agency. Storage Engine is please to help this Agency expand while our products have continued to demonstrate value, backed by uncompromising support commitment. Storage Engine's Synchronism will be used for a single "window" view of storage, enabling easy control and management of their data storage for this agency.

About Storage Engine:

Storage Engine, Inc., is a leading responsible provider of data storage solutions and document imaging solutions for enterprises and departments that serve a wide range of business and government markets along with a wide range of other services to enable the capture, tracking, storing, sharing, replication and utilization of information assets, with compliance, cost effectively.

Storage Engine competes against large corporations including EMC (NYSE-EMC), Network Appliance (NASDAQ-NTAP), Sun Microsystems (NASDAQ-JAVA) and Hewlett Packard (NYSE-HP), among others.

For more information, visit www.storageengine.com, or call 1-866-734-8899.

###